

June 2025 - 3.55 Miles

Helen Boosalis Trail

This month, we're taking on the Helen Boosalis Trail, a paved path that runs alongside Highway 2. Though it follows a busy roadway, it offers long, uninterrupted stretches perfect for logging steady miles and connecting with nearby trails.

Trail Instructions:

- Starting Point: Begin at 17th & Burnham Street, where Mile Marker 0 is located. There's plenty of parking available just west of the intersection, at the Nebraska Department of Transportation offices.
- Trail Path: Head east on the Boosalis Trail as it parallels Highway 2. This stretch is mostly flat and open, making it a great choice for both walkers and bikers. You'll pass through residential areas and under a few underpasses, with occasional crossings at intersections—keep an eye out for signage and traffic signals.
- End Point: The route ends where the Boosalis Trail intersects with the Old Cheney Trail, near Pinnacle Bank at Highway 2 and Old Cheney Road. If you started at 17th & Burnham, this makes for a solid out-and-back distance or a good halfway mark if you're combining it with the Old Cheney Trail.

Enjoy your adventure along the Helen Boosalis Trail!

For More Information:

Visit <https://www.gptn.org/lincoln-trail-a-thon>

Great Plains
Trails Network